SENATE
TO MEET
SATURDAY

It took no more than ten minutes for the Senate to consider its business and adjourn yesterday. There was no message and no report from either of the committees of the body, and consequently the members did not want to stay. The adjournment was taken until Saturday morning, owing to the fact that today is Thanksgiving and tomorrow is Hawaiian Independence Day.

The illness of Senator Paris, who was unable to attend the sessions of yesterday, will delay the work of such committees as he is on, but it is thought he will be on hand early in the next week. There will be probably nothing of importance until that time.

There have been many conferences recently over the question of appointments, but as yet no slate has been prepared, and the people who have been in their bonnets have a fair field for work. The declination of M. P. Robinson, who some weeks ago refused to have his name mentioned for the Treasury, has been reaffirmed and there are now several candidates for the place.

A CLAIM MADE OF CONSPIRACY.

been issued by his predecessor, Jonathan Shaw. This showing was deemed insufficient by the court until there had been shown that proof could be made in no other way. Douthitt then made a demand upon Davis for a copy of the commission, but the latter claimed that he must be given forty-eight hours' notice in writing. The question was finally disposed of by Pratt's testimony to the effect that Thompson had been employed in the office as a deputy assessor, and at the conclusion of the trial formal notice was made upon the defendant to produce the document.

Mr. Pratt, over many objections, finally testified as to the facts leading up to the discovery of irregularities in the tax office. He said that he had first learned of it by the discovery of personal tax receipts in the hands of Chinese who, when asked to pay, showed receipts of the wrong series. A thorough investigation was then made of the tax books, and a number of personal tax books were found with the receipts missing, though the stubs were there, showing where the paper had been abstracted. These receipts had been taken from books not then in use in the office, and the two Chinese who had them came to the tax office on the following morning, May 6. Woodward was identified as the man who had presented the receipt and been given the money. Both receipts were signed with the name of Alexander D. Thompson, but the signature, Pratt stated, was not in Thompson's handwriting, and Davis shouted "forgery" at Douthitt as this fact was elicited. Thompson arrived at the office some twenty minutes later and was asked why he had warned Woodward that he was liable to be identified that morning. His reply was that he thought Woodward already had knowledge of the fact and he wanted to keep him out of trouble. Pratt also told of a receipt found at the Fish market which he stated had been located by Thompson. About a dozen personal tax receipts were introduced in evidence for identification purposes only. Douthitt stating that he would connect them with the defendant. On all of these the name of Thompson appears, but it is not in his own handwriting.

Mr. Douthitt, in his opening statement, said that he would show there was a conspiracy between Woodward and Thompson to rob the government, and that Woodward secured the receipts from Thompson and the two men divided the money collected on them. Adjournment was taken until Monday morning, as Thursday and Friday are legal holidays and Saturday is given over to motions.

MRS. GERTZ GOES FOR DINNER.
Mrs. Gertz, as her own attorney, has filed a motion addressed to Judge Gear, asking that her suit against Magoon be advanced on the calendar. In her petition she says of Judge Gear: "To the Honorable Second Judge in the circuit court of the First Circuit."

"Undersigned Anna Gertz, widow of Christian Gertz of Honolulu, petitioner to original bill and also amended bill, to revoke foreclosure, Anna Gertz vs. J. Alfred Magoon, the amended bill which was filed on August 25, 1902, before said Honorable court and promised by said Honorable court to be taken into consideration, either to grant a rehearing as prayed for in motion filed on March 31, 1902, or if a new action may be instituted."

"Now, as three months have passed, without having been made known to petitioner which course the Honorable court has decided for the action to take and petitioner feels very nervous in having her complaint delayed, whereas in the past a lady in believing in be cheated out of $4 in Fire Claims transactions had at once a rehearing in the courts of the First Circuit and your petitioner's business having been robbed and destroyed to the value of about three thousand dollars on December 18, 1895, without being able to obtain a hearing and petitioner has therefore the belief that she is neglected by the Honorable court and entitled under the constitution to the same consideration as if she was American or English born."

"And the delay of said Honorable Court in administering justice is detrimental to petitioner's welfare."

COURT NOTES.

Judge Robinson continued the hearing of the case of Naukina vs. Schack yesterday. The trial is still unfinished.

THEY WILL REMAIN.

The bump of reverence is over, shadowed by the bump of intelligence in the 20th century man and woman. Old things are not preserved simply because they are old. Whatsoever is no longer useful must get out of the way. Nevertheless, progress that is not intelligent will not be permanent. We shall continue to breathe air, drink water and eat bread. There will be no "improvement" on the great essentials of living, and we do not want any. Babies will come into the world as they have from the beginning, and people will die out of it as they have done since the world began. Let us not run away with the idea that all of our treasured opinions are to be upset. Through every change, all standard articles which, like WAMPOLE'S PREPARATION have built a reputation on honour and good service, will hold their place. This effective remedy belongs to the past, the present and the future. It is not only up-to-date but ahead of date. For Wasting Diseases, Impaired Nutrition, Influenza, Lung Troubles, Impure Humors in the blood with resulting skin affections, etc., it possesses the confidence of physicians and the people everywhere. It is not expected to fail; it never does fail. The formula after which it is made is an inspiration. It contains the nutritive and curative properties of Pure Cod Liver Oil, extracted by us from fresh cod livers, combined with the Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and the Extracts of Malt and Wild Cherry. It is palatable as honey, and yet so medicinal as to be effective from the first dose. Professor Reddy, of Canada, says: "I have much pleasure in stating that I have used it in cases of debility and have found it to be a very valuable remedy as well as pleasing to take." "It cannot disappoint." Sold by chemists.
